

The Moabitic Stone.

(The numbers in the margin designate the lines corresponding to the verses below. The dots over some of the characters show that the decipherment is doubtful. The small letters, a b c e, indicate the two large fragments rescued from the Arabs, who had broken the stone after impressions had been taken from it by the discoverer. The whole stone was about three feet seven inches long, by one foot eleven inches wide.)